Janus International Introduces New Insulated Fire Door

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(Temple, GA – October 14, 2010) Janus International has introduced their new UL Listed Model FID30 Sure-Set™ Insulated Fire Door. Used primarily to protect openings in exterior walls, the FID30 rolling steel fire door has a variety of applications and is available with your choice of the Janus Chain Hoist or two fail-safe operator models. All drive types may be integrated into building fire alarm control systems and are easily tested from the floor without ladders or tools. This product was burn tested for a four hour duration at the UL Northbrook, IL facility in compliance with NFPA 80 2010 standards. The Sure- Set™ FID30 features UL Labels for listed and oversize doors mounting to sheetrock, steel and masonry construction up to four hours. It may be ordered with a UL “S” Label for smoke and draft control and will soon be listed with a sound transmission (STC) rating.
