Janus International Introduces New Round Hood

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(Temple, GA – May 23, 2011) Janus International has released a new round service hood profile as an alternative to the standard structural half-hex design. The hood is available for the frequent occasions where pre-finished round hoods are required to match previously installed products or to meet specification requirements.

Also designed to retrofit all manufacturers' designs as a service repair hood, it is available in six standard finish paint colors and #4 brushed stainless steel or clear anodized aluminum. It may be requested as a one-piece design in widths to 16'4" and in multiple piece configurations for any width or height opening.
