FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(April 20, 2009 - Temple, GA) JanUS Door has announced a new and innovative universal rolling steel door drive mounting system. Our new factory pre-punched universal headplates match up with unique and inexpensive transition brackets that allow new or retro-fit mounting of chain hoists or front of hood mount operators with only two bolts. JanUS offers chain hoist operation with sprocket and roller chain reduction or with cast gear reduction by using the same pre-punched universal transition bracket. Motor installation is enhanced and simplified by another pre-punched universal transition bracket that mounts to the headplate and locks after tensioning the drive chain. No field drilling is required for new or retrofit installation when using the JanUS Drive Systems, and they may be quickly and easily retrofitted to any existing door. Visit us at the IDA Show or at www.janus-door.com.
